

HISTORY OF INTELLECTUAL CULTURE: A NEW JOURNAL

History of Intellectual Culture is a new international electronic journal that publishes peer-reviewed research papers on the socio-historical contexts of ideas and ideologies and their relationships to community and state formation, physical environments, human and institutional agency, and personal and collective identity and lived experience. The journal will highlight the viability and vibrancy of intellectual history as a scholarly field, present new perspectives for research and analysis, and stimulate critical discussion amongst scholars and students across disciplines.

The editors invite submissions of historical and interdisciplinary papers based on original research in the following broad areas:

- The contextual development of social, philosophical, scientific, political, and economic ideas, ideologies, and discourses;
- Histories of cultures, communities, and social movements based on shared ideas;
- Histories of higher education including analyses of teaching, research, professorial and administrative activity, resource allocation, political and intellectual milieus, and department and discipline construction;

- Issues in the history of state and community formation;
- Ideas and discourses in the historical construction of race, gender, ethnicity, religion, nationalism, and multiculturalism;
- Histories of women and intellectual culture;
- Historical contexts of ideologies in science and technology, and media and communication;
- Biographies and studies of agency and historical development; and
- New methodologies, approaches, and historiographies in the history of thought, state, culture, institutions, education, and community.
